The Germans are employing fresh forces of reserves and are defending the ground inch by inch, intent on saving the bulk of the armies of Gens. von der Marwitz and von Hutier, which are retreating in the direction of Neale and Ham, but the allied troops are pressing them hard and continue to make gains. After a bitter contest, the Americans and British have gained a foothold in the important town of Bray-Sur-Somme, while the French have captured Gury, a position of great strategic value lying southwest of Lassigny. The capture of the whole massif of Lassigny by the Allies is expected at any moment.

DOINGS THE COUNTRY OVER

Richard F. Outcalt, Jr., the original "Buster Brown," a son of the cartoonist, was injured in an airplane accident in France.

The seventy or more shipyards now building vessels in the United States are estimated to use not less than 2,000,000 cubic feet of timber every day.

The House Ways and Means Committee is a billion dollars short of its $8,000,000,000 goal in the framing of the tentative draft of the Revenue Bill after including all schedules so far adopted.

Roscoe Delph, of Lily, Whitley county, was killed by a switch engine at Molus, a station near Harlan. He was one of the brakemen of the crew, and in hurrying to turn a switch his foot caught in the switch frog.

Thomas King, of Frankfort and Louisville, was killed, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stoll, Miss Catherine Tolin and Edward Fennell were injured when their automobile skidded on an oiled pike near Middletown.

Two British aviators have just completed a flight from England to Egypt, a distance of 2,000 miles. The machines were of a type that have seen considerable service on the front. With the aviators were two mechanics.

Incessant at the efforts of the Detroit United Railway Company to collect a 6-cent fare, riots broke out in all parts of Detroit. Cars were attacked, motormen beaten and the system paralyzed. Police were called out to prevent violence.

W. C. Masterson and his daughter, Miss Virginia Masterson, were killed at O'Bannon, near Louisville, when an L. & N. fast passenger train crashed into their automobile. Another daughter, Miss Rebecca Masterson, was probably fatally injured.

Falling asleep on the railroad track, a man said to be Herbert Kirby, 20 years old, a destitute from Camp Shelby, awoke to find his companion, named King, 18 years old, from Nelson county, dead and his own legs cut off, near Caneyville, Ky.

It is reported that John E. Menden, of Lexington, is likely to be appointed head of the United States Government breeding establishment, which is connected with the Remount division of the army. Menden is now in the East but will return here for the fall racing.

Automobile manufacturers were advised to convert their plants to 100 per cent war work as soon as possible by the War Industries Board. Steel, rubber and other materials necessary in the manufacture of passenger cars can not be assured for any period in advance, it was stated, and those concerns having large stocks of steel on hand probably will be required to turn it over to the Government.

Four survivors of the American schooner, Katie Palmer, sunk by a German submarine Saturday evening 100 miles east of Nantucket, have landed at New Bedford, the Navy Department was advised with a report that they were taken aboard the submarine which was 200 feet long, mounted one gun and carried a crew of six men. The captain of the schooner, they said, declared he was equipped to remain on this side of the Atlantic for six months.

MR. FOLK WINS

The rule of events on European battlefields should not force us to forget pleasant happenings at home, and not the least of these of recent date is the overwhelming majority given to Joseph Folk in the Democratic senatorial primaries in Missouri.

Mr. Folk's head and shoulders the most distinguished citizen of Missouri. He made a splendid record as district attorney in St. Louis and later as governor. He was defeated for Senator by W. J. Stone by the vote in Kansas City and St. Louis because of the fact that he had closed the saloons on Sunday. An effort was persistently made afterward to elbow him out of the way very much similar to the effort that was made with deserved failure relative to Senator Beckham in Kentucky after the latter's admirable work in the governor's office.

Mr. Folk has now come into his own in his own State. He will be the next Senator from Missouri and he will be one of the ablest men on the Democratic side. We congratulate the Missouri Democrats on their selection.—Louisville Post.

It has been estimated that Noah's ark was 547 feet long, 91 feet wide and 54 feet high. Its capacity, according to Bishop Wilkins, was 1,235,000 tons.

WAR COST RELATIVELY SMALL

Though the figures of our national indebtedness are huge, the ratio of our national wealth is very small, and will probably never reach the ratio developed by Civil War expenditures to the nation's wealth as it then existed.

True, as some may point out, we have never paid all of the Civil War bill, but it was not because we couldn't. Uncle Sam has treated it much as the millionaire individual who renews from time to time a $10,000-note at the bank. If so requested, he could pay it at any time, but the bank is glad to have his paper, and so it rocks along without serious thought from either party. If the note were $100,000 it would probably have been paid at its first maturity. So, when Uncle Sam comes out of this war with his heavy obligations, special arrangements will be made to meet them. Liberty bonds will be paid—and no one thinks otherwise.

Our national wealth and our annual national income have been estimated at 250 billions and 40 billions respectively, while our war expenditures will be, it is thought, about fifteen billions a year when our industries are fully converted to a war basis. But, as a matter of fact, if the estimate of our income gave due consideration to war prices, the total would probably be sixty billions instead of forty billions.

BRUNER'S VICTORY CONCEDED

Although the figures in the primary election for the Republican nomination for Senator are incomplete, enough have been received to indicate the nomination of Dr. Ben L. Bruner, of Louisville, over Walter H. J. Bethune, of Somerset, and Dr. Bruner has received a letter from his opponent acknowledging defeat and pledging support in the race against Senator Ollie James.

Reports from eighty-seven out of 120 counties in the State give Bruner 120,028, and Bethune 14,397, but Dr. Bruner declares he has received reports from 116 counties, giving him a majority of 3,461.

In the second appellate district with Warren and Henderson still out, Judge Settle's lead over Judge Henson for the Democratic nomination is 1,375, assuring the present chief justice of the nomination.

COUNTY DIVIDED

AMONG CHURCHES

A meeting of the Central Committee of the War Savings Campaign was held on Saturday evening at the Baptist church for the purpose of perfecting plans for the organization of the county in the coming drive. It was decided by the committee to divide the county according to the six educational divisions, the committees from the various churches being responsible for the organization of the division assigned to each. The First Christian church will work the first division; the Methodist church the second division; the third division will be turned over to Berea; the fourth division to the Presbyterian church; the fifth division to the Catholic church, and the sixth division to the Baptist church.—Richmond Register.

DISPOSITION OF ROOZE

PUZZLES OFFICERS

A Middleboro dispatch says: "To do with seventeen quarts of booze which was 'captured' here in a trunk at the baggage room of the L. & N. depot, having been shinned from Cincinnati, is a question that is puzzling City Judge Chas. A. Woods. No one knows who the owner is, either the shipper or the consignor, the trunk having only a check number on it and the whisky is unlabeled. No one has ventured to claim the booze and likely will not on account of the penalty attached for bringing liquor into dry territory. The owner not being known Judge Wood has no order to proceed against or convict in order to legally destroy the liquor. The question has been put up to the attorney general for decision.

Of the 305,000 American soldiers transported from this country to France in the month of July a total of 188,000 were carried in British ships, with British destroyers assisting in the convoy. This is team work of the best kind. And American shipping is growing very fast. By January 1 next the combined American and British transport service will be able to carry an army of 400,000 men, with all the necessary supplies, in the space of thirty days.

EVERYTHING GOING DRY

"What we need is individual drinking cups." "What's the good of individual drinking cups, with nothing to drink?"

WAR MOTHERS' ORGANIZATION

The Lincoln County War Mothers, 35 of whom were present, were organized at the court-house Monday August 12th. This is the second organization in the State, Louisville being the first. Mrs. Reinhart, who is the chief promoter, in a nice little talk told the object of the organization most important of which is to keep up the morale of the mothers at home and through them the morale of the men in the trenches. Some of the other important things for which the organization stands are: The work of the Red Cross, Liberty Loan drives and co-operation with the food and fuel administrators. Miss Essie Hurch who has done much to cheer and add to the comfort of our boys, was christened godmother of the local chapter. She acted as chairman through the election of officers, which were as follows: Mrs. E. L. Reinhart, war mother; Mrs. E. J. Brown, vice mother; Mrs. W. K. Warner, secretary; Mrs. C. R. Coleman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Garland Singleton, treasurer.

The next meeting will be next Friday, the 16th inst., at 4 o'clock in the circuit court room. Every mother who has a boy in service is invited to be present. The next mass meeting will be Sept. 9th, when delegates will be appointed to attend the national convention at Evansville, Ind., which is from the 18th to the 20th of September. Many mothers will be expected to attend this meeting.

MRS. W. K. WARNER, Secy.

DRUNKENNESS NO EXCUSE

A jury in the United States Court at Covington returned a verdict of guilty in the case of William O'Connell, of Lewisburg, Mason county, charged in three counts in an indictment with violating the espionage law. Counsel for defendant sought to show that his client was drinking heavily and was not responsible for his action or words. Private Buchanan of Mayville, testified that he met O'Connell near the recruiting station in Mayville and that O'Connell said to him: "If I were you I would not volunteer. You will be the first to get killed. The American people are fools to enter war, as Germany is superior." Judge Cochran informed the jury that drunkenness was not an excuse for violating the law.

FUEL ADMINISTRATION RULING

Ruling of Federal Fuel Administrator of Kentucky. As soon as the heavy shipments to the lakes are completed, which will be about the first of November, we will place sufficient coal at your disposal to take care of all domestic requirements of Eastern Kentucky. In the meantime we are privileged to place orders with district distributors for such coal as is absolutely needed for immediate consumption and not for storage. In view of this ruling, and to do your bit to win the war, we urge you who have available wood to cut it into cord wood and be ready to cut down your winter supply of coal by using wood instead of coal. Cut wood while the weather is good. Lincoln Co. Fuel Committee, C. E. TATE, Chairman.

NO SPINKLING ALLOWED

No one will be allowed to sprinkle with hydrant water from this hour on, and those caught doing so "will have their water cut off without further notice. This has to be done in order to furnish water for domestic purposes this dry spell. We again ask the cooperation of the people in helping us supply water 24 hours each day. Stanford Water, Light & Ice Co. 11

RAIL'S PATRIOTIC BALLOONS

Thomas Hall, of Shelby City, is one of the most patriotic citizens of Boyle county. Each day he sends up a balloon, colors red, white and blue, in honor of our boys who are fighting for freedom. The balloons can be seen for miles around and those who look upon them daily are reminded of Shelby City's patriotism.—Danville Advocate.

HAND KNITTING CHECKED

Hand knitting for the soldiers and sailors is to be checked until the War Industries Board can survey stocks to ascertain whether there is enough woolen and worsted in the country for winter uniforms and overcoats.

A WORD TO KNITTERS

Knitters, please finish and turn in on Thursday, August 29, all garments made of knitted yarn or any other yarn issued before August 1st. MRS. W. N. CRAIG, Chairman.

CECIL CARTER MEETS FEAFFUL DEATH

Cecil Carter, the 18-year-old son of Capt. Walter W. Carter, of Lebanon Junction, met a horrible death near Boston at an early hour Sunday morning. He was breaking on freight train No. 84, and was going back to the caboose to remedy a "hot box," when the freight gave a jerk. He fell from the box car he was on, and lighting on the track, had his right leg severed at the hip. He was not found until some five or six hours later, and the supposition is that he bled to death. His body was brought to this city Monday morning and laid to rest in Buffalo Springs Cemetery after brief services at the grave by Mr. J. C. McClary. Some 25 or more friends from Lebanon Junction accompanied the remains here for burial. Young Carter was a fine young man, and railroad men say he was the best "railroad man" for his years they ever saw. He was a youth of good morals and a fine young fellow in every way. His death is a great blow to his parents and his many friends.

MAKE BIG FARM SALE

Messrs. Dinwiddie & Owens, the West End farm brokers, have sold for Squire William Fields his excellent farm of 265 acres, on the Hustonville and Liberty pike, one mile south of Hustonville, to Thomas A. Rinearson, who recently sold his big farm of Rolling Fork in Casey county, for $44,000. The place is known as the old T. L. Carpenter farm and is one of the very best in the county. Lincoln county people will heartily welcome Mr. Rinearson and his splendid family to this county and at the same time do all in their power to keep Squire Fields and his folks here in Lincoln, where they belong. Mr. Fields will have a big sale of personally on August 29th, as an advertisement in another part of this paper shows. Read it.

GOOD CATTLE SOLD WELL

There were only about 300 cattle on the market here Monday, court day, but they all changed hands and at good prices. The best yearling and two-year-old steers sold as high as 12c. Heifers went at 8 to 9c. No butcher stuff was offered. J. W. Barnes, of Byrdstown, Tenn., sold 130 Tennessee ewes at about $18. Mr. E. P. Woods sold a car-load of good Percheron mares at the Jones Pens at satisfactory prices. Nevin Carter and Frank Martin sold a portion of the car-load they had on hand. August court is scarcely ever a lively one, but yesterday's was probably above the average.

OFFICERS FAILED TO VOTE

Many unusual incidents happened at the State primary last Saturday, due to the lack of interest in many parts of the State. In many precincts only the officers of election cast votes, but the prize goes to a precinct in an Eastern Kentucky county, where the officers of election returned the poll book without a vote having been cast, they themselves having forgotten to vote, although they had ten hours in which to cast their ballots.—Louisville Times.

BRENT AND HOLLARS LOSE BY HAIL

Messrs. T. A. Brent and W. M. Hollars, who live in the Cook's Springs section of the county, lost a portion of their tobacco crops by hail Wednesday afternoon. The former had an acre ridged by hail almost as large as an egg, while the latter had 25 acres of his crop badly damaged. Each of the gentlemen had several acres of corn damaged.

JIM TALL DEAD

Jim Tall, a well-known colored man, died in a Lexington hospital of a complication of troubles and the remains were brought here and interred Friday afternoon. He was taken to the hospital by some white friends, whose sympathies were moved by the negro's bad condition. Jim had been a "boss" in his day, but in latter years had been living a much better life.

COULTER'S SALE THURSDAY

John Coulter will have a big sale near Middleburg next Thursday, 15th, at which time he will dispose of his property in Middleburg, being 57 1/2 acres of good Green river bottom land, 10 acres of which are in grass. He will also sell a big lot of high-class live stock. The sale will be one of the biggest Casey has had in years. Better join the crowd and attend.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

Hold Siberia at all hazards now is the appeal of Germany to the Russians, and the Boches are planning to send troops there against the Czech-Slovaks and the Allies. The Berlin newspapers are outspoken about their anxiety and declare that the overthrow of the Bolshevik government may be expected hourly.

French forces have followed up their victory at Montdidier and have advanced to an average depth of six miles over a twenty-mile front. Thousands of prisoners and a huge amount of supplies were captured at Montdidier. French patrols are reported in Chaulnes, the principal German center west of the Somme. The beaten German armies are said to be in full retreat in the center.

Advancing beyond their objectives north of the Somme, the Americans and British are now in possession of the whole of the Chippilly spur after fighting of the most desperate character. The Americans did brilliant work. In order to go over the top at the appointed time they were forced to make a rapid march, and as they neared the thick of the battle ran so as to be in the fight. The Germans continued their retreat throughout the day and attempted to save whatever they could as the French launched a new attack on Montdidier. North of the Agre the British have firmly established their positions and are pushing their patrols toward Braye.

Vess Brown, wounded on the western front, is a son of D. H. and Alice Brown, of Quail, Rockcastle county. He is 29 years old, was one of the first contingent of drafted men to leave this country in September, 1917. He has been in France less than three months.

Gen. Foch, Commander-in-Chief of the Allied forces on the western front, has been elevated to be a Marshal of France by the Council of Ministers. The military medal was conferred on Gen. Petain, Commander-in-Chief of the French armies on the western front.

Lenine and Trotzky are planning to flee if anti-Bolshevik feeling in Russia becomes any more acute. Already the Bolshevik Soviet organization has gone to pieces and counter revolutions have broken out in a number of towns. In Kazan the leader of the Reds has been killed, while in the Novgorod and Riazan districts great bloodshed is reported.

Three desperate counter attacks in force were delivered Sunday against the Americans along the Vesle. Despite the superior numbers thrown into the battle, the Americans by machine gun fire and hand-to-hand fighting, held the Huns who are reported to be digging in. American troops Saturday found the grave of Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, took down the German cross and placed over it an American cross with the inscription, "Here rests on the field of honor First Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, killed in action July, 1918."

Germans are throwing in their reserves in an effort to stop the allied dash in the Picardy battle. Against the Americans and British the Huns have materially stiffened their defense, but have been unable to stem the allied advance, which, however, has slowed down. The Americans and their British brothers-in-arms are pressing closely on Bray-Sur-Somme, aided by tanks and armored cars. Across the river at Lihons the Germans gained the outskirts of the town and at one point pierced the British line, but a heavy counter attack restored the allied positions.

"Events between the Somme and the Aisne constitute the first serious defeat of the war," says the Deutsches Zeitung of Berlin.

STANFORD HOTEL OPENS THIS EVENING

The Stanford Hotel, Q. B. Love, president, and J. C. McDonald, manager, will throw open its doors this evening and the occasion promises to be a notable one. Many of Stanford's business men will attend the opening in a body and be shown through the beautiful new hostelry.

The Allection Camp Meeting was compelled to shut down Sunday because of the lack of drinking water.

INTERESTING LETTER

FROM SAILOR BOY

Unit T. Quartermaster School, Stra.
Class, Hampton Roads, Va.,
Aug. 7, 1918.

Dear Interior Journal Editors and Force: It makes a jackie a little shy to take his pen in hand to say a word to the dear friends back home; but this nervousness goes only to show the deep feeling we have for all the dear folks we left behind, though I know you have big hearts and will excuse mistakes. With this view I will say a word.

Now if you will allow me a little space, I will go back and review my past few months in the navy, for you. I enlisted April 6th, the anniversary of the declaration of war, and arrived at Great Lakes 11 o'clock Tuesday morning of the 16th, had late dinner or better known in the navy as "chow," it was 1 o'clock, and take it from me, whether it was good grub or not the boys went after it like regular veterans. We were all hooted and hollered at and called "rookies" from the time our train pulled in sight of Great Lakes until we stood in our uniforms looking like "men-of-war men," but all this rookie junk was forgotten at this first chow. But the fun was yet to come for all of us the first night in the navy. Just ask some fellows about it and I will guarantee they could tell enough for a chapter in a book.

We were issued our hammocks that afternoon, and about 7 o'clock the boys started to learn the acrobatic stunt of climbing in them, and most of the night was spent in climbing in again by some of the fellows. Their hammocks were inclined to turn as they did, so out they would go to meet the floor, five feet below, by way of the rapid transit system. But as it was a short fall, few hurt themselves very much; it just made some use a little rough language and lay the blame on the kaiser, where it belongs. Every time a fellow would thug the floor, all would let out a roar of laughter, that could be heard for several barracks around; then you could hear some guard or officer shout, "Pipe down you rookies." All would be quiet for a few minutes, then another poor "boob" would hit the floor. So the nights passed for the first week or two.

Beyond a doubt the first month or detention period is a fellow's hardest time in the navy, or at least it has been for me up until now. All have to work here. The rich man's son, who was fed all his life with a silver spoon, takes a pick or shovel along side the poor man's son, and learns the art of manual labor, the muscle builder. It makes a smile come to the face of the boy who has experienced labor to see the rich or city dude swing a pick digging up a hard road, or shovelling rock; but the boys work together and fulfill the song to "Smile, boys smile." Yes, they sure get that style here all right.

After staying for our dinner in Camp Decatur our company of about fifty boys, who went to Great Lakes from Louisville, moved to Camp Farragut, where we stayed two weeks; then we spent a week or ten days in Camp Dewey, then from there to Perry, where we stayed two days at the hardest work I have done in the navy. We were laying sod and hauling dirt in wheelbarrows. I tell you it was not very much fun to push a wheelbarrow full of dirt all day; had to push each load about five hundred yards, or more; some muscle builder, all "to get the kaiser," and we will do it, too.

It was from this camp and Dewey that we split up our Kentucky bunch. You know they are so good they have to scatter them among bunches of fellows from the other states to make up what is lacking. Some went out as apprentice seamen. I guess most of them have become acquainted with a broom and swab by now, also scrubbing paint work and shining brass, but they are on their way to gold strippers; most of them though are just on their way.

It was about May 11th, thirty-four of us moved to Quartermaster School main camp Great Lakes. Here I stayed, worked, drilled and studied for one month, but during this time we were allowed liberty twelve to twenty-four hours each week; believe me we were shown some grand time in Chicago.

There were several club rooms throughout the city, each club giving their time entirely to the entertainment of the jacksies. At these rooms we were given a free lunch, with cakes, candies and ice cream as desserts, and a pretty girl to eat with us and tell us nice stories and you know give you the pleasant smile all the while. After lunch the evening was turned over to one big time until the hour came for us to hurry away to catch our train, so we would be on time back at the station. But it seemed quite hard some nights, for the other boys to turn loose of the beautiful maidens' soft white hands after a few moments' hold, saying good-bye. I guess you know better than I how it is.

Time, like the rippling stream, comes and is gone forever. These four weeks have passed at Great Lakes Q. M. School and we were sent out on a draft on Lake Michigan; on the training boats the U. S. S. Essex and Yantic. I was on the historical Essex. It is said to be the boat that has gone farther north than any other ship. With me, was my shipmate, the only one left with me, who came in our bunch from Kentucky, his name is Mr. Archie McCarty, of Olive Hill, Ky. A fine fellow, too. It seems strange out of all the bunch just one is still with me. I hope we will get to stay together, because we have learned to trust each other and I am sorry to say this is not true of all the fellows, but most of them are fine lads. Three weeks of interesting study and boat duty, like swabbing or holy stoning the deck. We sailed all over Lake Michigan, anchoring at Waukegan, Ill., Milwaukee, Mich., and Chicago, these were all of our stops.

We landed at Manitou Island on Saturday, the 15th of June, were given shore leave in the afternoon. The two ships companies played a game of ball, but the mosquitoes bit us so well, we felt bad and were glad to get back aboard ship; after three hours' stay as mosquito food. They were so thick they went in swarms of millions. We put our collars up under our hats to keep them off of our necks and tied our handkerchiefs around our faces or fought them with both hands. I never was pestered so in all my short life. All were glad when we lifted anchor to get under way at Manitou Island.

Around Muskegon, Michigan, are some of the greatest sand hills of the world; large mountains of yellow sand, some barren of every living thing. It was beautiful to look upon the big yellow sand mountains, when the sun was shining on them.

Three weeks gone on the lakes, we returned to Q. M. School, to wait for the event, which is the happiest of all to a sailor or soldier, the furlough, which was granted on Tuesday, July 11th. At 9:15 that morning one of the most pleasant bunches you ever saw, boarded the train for home. There were thirty-four in all, nearly all the states in the Union were represented in this crowd; but not one sailor felt any better than I. My furlough was enjoyed to the fullest, only regrets were that I did not have time to see all the friends and have longer with the home folks. I think I helped eat about two dozen chickens while there, which were three meals a day for eight days. After this short, happy occasion, I returned to Great Lakes and from there we were sent to this camp. The trip was much enjoyed by all the boys. We came over the Pennsylvania line to Columbus, Ohio, then to Norfolk on the Norfolk and Western.

The smooth farming lands of Indiana and Illinois looked good, but when you are looking out for scenery, you have to give it to the Virginias; back in the hills of green with beautiful flowing streams. Virginia looks like and made me feel like I was nearer my home state than any I have been in. The long weeping willows in this state are just grand to look upon. We have willows in Kentucky, but they are not to be compared with the ones here.

I am making my letter too long, so must hurry to a close. We have been here at this naval base about twelve days, waiting to go to sea. We were scheduled to leave here last Friday, but were scratched from the draft, so they said we would leave for sure Monday and were all packed up to go, but we were delayed again, so in suspense we are waiting to go to sea. We will soon be fixed up all O K and on the deep blue sea we will set sail, to do our part to put out Prussianism forever.

Excuse my mistakes and give my regards and love to all. Also keep a share for the editors, and tell the girls hello!

Your Lincoln County Sailor Boy,
WILL D. McCORMACK.

P. S.—Wish you would change your paper to my new address and thank you.

I forgot to say that while I was at Great Lakes, I had the pleasure of seeing at two or three different times, my cousin, W. B. Bryant, friend James Cooper, whom you all know, but it was my regrets that when I returned from my furlough, they had left on an overseas draft, where are they now? I have never heard. Also had the pleasure of seeing Joe Warner, Robert Nunnelle, Wray Murphy and my old schoolmate, Hobart Arnold. I just saw the latter Lincoln county boys by chance. They are all looking good, well-fed and happy. With thanks for the space if you can spare it, if not, thanks any way.

Your friend,

TWENTY-SEVEN BERLINS IN THE UNITED STATES

There are no less than twenty-seven towns named Berlin in this country. The United States is dotted with them. Ohio alone has four little Berlins. And there are almost as many American towns named Bismarck as are named after our great Lincoln. Lawrence, Kans., has a Bismarck grove. Hamburg, the great Prussian port, has a namesake in twenty States. Eight American towns are named Bremen, eleven Dresden, twenty-two Hanover, including one Hanover in Kansas. There are even two towns named Kaiser. One is in Missouri and one is in Wisconsin, but evidently few people care to live in these two towns, for their populations are so small that after the war a lot of new State maps will be needed as nearly all these towns will be rechristened.

"THE AMERICAN'S CREED"

"I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic, a sovereign nation of many sovereign States; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I, therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag and to defend it against all enemies."

ARE WE WORTH FIGHTING FOR?

From the columns of the New York Tribune we take a letter containing one of the few new and really pertinent questions relating to the war. Of course, the question is as old as the hills, but the asking of it betokens a new courage and a new thoughtfulness on the part of the questioner. Observe the letter:

"I heard an eminent divine in a church uptown recently. He brought out one thought that should not die within the walls of the sanctuary. After a vivid and personal description of the impression of his visit and talk to the boys at Yaphank, he said a thought that had forced itself upon him, 'Were we worth dying for?'"

Thousands of men are going across to make the great sacrifice, if necessary, and were we doing our part to make the sacrifice worth while?

Let you and other editors ask every man, woman and child to face that question squarely. Men are going across by the hundred thousand. Are you doing your part that you are worth dying for?

No man, no woman, should neglect to ask of themselves this question?

Am I worth dying for? It seems amazing amongst all the literature and oratory of the great war that this query should never before have been given audible voice. It is not conceivable that many persons have not asked themselves something of this sort in their own hearts, but none has dared to give public expression of this most important question until now.

Are we worth dying for? Many a man and many a woman has uttered the foolish wish to serve in the trenches when they well knew there was not the remotest possibility of such a service. Naturally everyone would embrace the opportunity to take not-shots at the Germans—this much is easy. But have we begun to devote to our country and to the gallant boys who are our defenders the unalloyed loyalty, love and devotion to which they are entitled? Are we worth dying for?

Are we worth dying for? Have we brought forth the rubies of price and the refined gold of our undragging service to the country and its defenders? Have we done what we could? Have we prated of "giving" while lending money to our country upon unimpeachable terms of interest and security? Have we stood back to "let George do it" when the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. and the other army adjuncts asked for money? Are we worth dying for?

Are we worth dying for? Have we remembered every need of the boys who are to interpose their young breasts between us and the Hun? Have we been patient with our young officers, called suddenly from all walks of life to be the bulwark of our liberties? Have we given more than passing thought to the physical and spiritual welfare of those who go willingly to lay down their lives that we may live on in peace and security? Are we worth dying for?—Louisville Times.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

E. C. Walton and J. H. Wright
Entered at the postoffice at Stanford, Ky., as second class mail matter.

The Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, which makes a specialty of gathering crop statistics, and which are generally more reliable than those issued by the Government, says that the wheat yield this year will exceed that of last by 258,000,000 bushels, being 909,177,000 bushels in the aggregate, which with the increase in Argentina, Canada and Australia, insures that the allied armies will not need for bread for at least two years. The corn crop is somewhat short, but the quality more than makes up for it. The potato crop is also short, said to be as much as 42,000,000 bushels less than the record crop of last year. The bank adds that the farmers have done marvelously under adverse circumstances, such as having labor drained by more attractive wages in industrial centers and the calling of young men to the colors. While aiding the country in its most perilous time, they have also added largely to their own wealth and are enjoying most unprecedented prosperity.

The Lexington Herald publishes the cock and hull story from Frankfort that the Stanley faction is trying to play the harmony racket with the Beckham faction, knowing that it is the only chance he has to ever be United States senator, to hold which office "he would give a leg." The program is when Logan resigns as tax commissioner, Auditor Greene is to be appointed in his stead and Tom Rhen to be given the auditorship. Stanley is to throw his strength to Beckham and vice versa, both are to go to the Senate without opposition and the year of jubilee will come. As this arrangement eliminates Ollie James, it could hardly be carried out except in case of his death, which, we trust the Good Lord will forbid, but which the Frankfort scribe alleges is almost certain. This kind of a story helps some in these politically dull dog days, but coming from the source it does, it would not be given much credence even if there was really something in it.

A jury at Covington trying Conductor DeRossett, of the L. and N., under the espionage act, "took it to the Lord in prayer" and found him guilty, although the man protested his innocence. A dictionary furnished the only incriminating evidence and that showed that the man had made derogatory remarks about the Red Cross and other war agencies. It will be interesting to note if such a conviction on such testimony will stand the test of the highest courts.

To conserve the paper supply the Government has issued an order that Sunday papers must cut their size 20 per cent. This is one good effect of the shortage. Millions of pounds of good white paper is ruined yearly in the printing of so-called funny colored supplements and other matter that we should not think any thoughtful person would ever read.

The boys at Camp Zachary Taylor have not had a chance at the kniser yet, but they have been getting in their work on the pestiferous fly. Capt. Butts, of the medical Reserve Corps there, reports that they caught and destroyed 125 pounds of flies during the month of July, which is the next best thing to the killing of Germans.

Fearing that he might get his deserts at the hands of an assassin, the brutal craven of Berlin who is causing thousands to suffer and lose their lives, has doubled his body guard, another example of the wicked fleeing when no man pursueth and conscience making a coward.

A brutal attendant at the Eastern Lunatic Asylum lent a patient and on being arrested was fined $20 and was discharged by the superintendent. This is pretty small punishment for such a cowardly offense but it seems it was the limit under the law.

Unfavorable war news and the fact that they have a tax exemption feature have caused the 3 1/2 per cent Liberty Bonds to go to $100.30. They had been down as low as about 96. The best security in the world will not likely long have to go a begging.

MARRIAGES

Will Corney, a "Sammie," and Miss Annie Messenger, of this county, were married Monday.

Sol Miracle and Miss Maude Shelton, both of the East End, were joined in wedlock's holy bonds on the eighth.

Robert Bourne and Miss Gracie Ballard, daughter of Mr. G. M. Ballard, of the East End, were made one Monday.

Mrs. Carl A. Carter and son, Edwin DePaw Carter, went to Mitchellsburg this afternoon to visit Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Carter.

The marriage of Miss Dora Morford and Dr. A. A. Hatfield, which took place in Frankfort, Ky., Saturday morning came as a surprise to the many friends of the contracting parties. Miss Morford is the attractive daughter of Mr. Thos. Morford, of this city, has many lovable traits of character, and very popular among a wide circle of friends. Dr. Hatfield is a very promising dentist, having come to Danville several years ago and has a host of friends here. After a short trip Dr. and Mrs. Hatfield will be at home to their many friends in Danville.—Advocate.

Herbert Bailey Huffman, son of Mr. A. P. Huffman, put one over on his friends the other day by stealing off to Lebanon and marrying one of that city's fairest daughters in the person of Miss Blanche Marguerite Isaacs, daughter of Mrs. Kate Isaacs. The happy pair came on to Stanford and are pleasantly domiciled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Huffman, out on Danville avenue. The bride is a handsome brunette and is one of Lebanon's most popular young women. For some time she had been stenographer for the Cumberland Grocery Co. Mr. Huffman is a steady young farmer and an excellent young man.

DEATH OF LITTLE GIRL

Ruth, the three-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Blankinship, of the East End, died Monday and was buried at Preachersville today. The little thing succumbed to a serious summer complaint. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Blankinship in their loss.

FROM A SON IN FRANCE

When I went to the army I thought it was bad, For me to serve in the army— This poor little lad. But the further I went The better I liked With all of my extra clothes, drilling and hikes. The first camp I went to I thought it was a whaler, And the name if it was Camp Zachary Taylor. And while I was there, I was as happy as a lark. But soon I was sent to Chickamauga Park. And there I drilled and a little too, And most we did was passing review. With our shoulders thrown back. And our heads up so high, You would have thought we were looking at the stars in the sky. With Col. Noble sitting on his horse so fine.

While the French colonel took a view at the line.

And there I remained until I was fit, Then they sent me to France to do my little bit.

And when I arrived at the seaside so wide I saw the big ships and the little ones by their side.

And the good women were there with their cheeks so rosy and red.

Ready to serve us with coffee and bread.

They also had cigarettes, which the boys liked so well—

How we appreciated them no tongue can tell.

And I couldn't hardly tell it with my pencil tonight.

What I saw as I sailed over, it was a sight.

As I sailed over I had nothing to fear. For I knew the submarine chasers were near.

When I got here I very soon found That Uncle Sam's boys had covered the ground.

And here I am now with my rifle and knife Looking for Germans to have a little fight.

With our good lieutenant, so brave and so true,

They are always ready and know what to do.

When they say "boys get your guns" We are going over the top to get us a Hun.

But then we are a little nervous, but glad of it too,

We want to show those Huns what we Sammies can do.

When we get through they will all know well.

What our Uncle Sammie has been trying to tell;

And when we get the Kaiser every-thing will be well.

We will return with a big story to tell.

And when I return won't it be sweet And the first thing I want is my mother to meet.

And won't it be sweeter to know that I can say

That I am at home forever to stay.

Stop Lively! Corns Quit with "Geta-It"

The Great Corn-Loosener of the Age. Never Fails. Painless.

Watch my step? What's the use of going along "right side up" without "Geta-It"? even with corns, because I use "Geta-It", the painless, off-like-a-banana-peel, corn remover. I tried other ways galore, until I was blue

Corns Simply Can't Stop Us, We Use "Geta-It" in the face and red in the toes. No more for me. "Geta-It" never fails. Touch any corn or callus with two drops of "Geta-It", and "Geta-It" does the rest. It's a relief to be able to stop cutting corns, making them bleed, wrapping them up like packages and using sticky tape and knives. It removes any corn clear and clean, leaving the toe as smooth as your palm. You can wear those new shoes without pain, dance and be frisky on your feet. It's great to use "Geta-It". THE IDEAL MOTHER

The woman is the heart of the home. If she is cross, miserable and dispirited, there will be little life and true happiness within. Let her do her part, but let her refuse to labor beyond her strength. A wise, tender mother is of more importance than anything else in the world to young children. Let every mother train herself to a wise neglect of unimportant things that she may be to her own the embodiment of sympathy, hope, gentleness, charity, wisdom and love.

HOOD LOSES FIRST BOY

Hood River, Or., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—The body of Lieutenant W. L. Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Carson, will be brought here from Fort Sill, Okla., where he was killed yesterday in an airplane accident. The father today received a message from another son, Lieutenant Joe K. Carson, Jr., an instructor at an officers training school at Camp Joseph E. Johnston, Fla., announcing he will be here to attend his brother's funeral. Another brother, Corporal John Carson, of Fort Worden, Wash., also will be home for the service.

Lieutenant Carson, aged 24 years, was one of the most beloved young men in this vicinity and made a steady progress, following his enlistment early last year. Death, however, ended his ambition of getting into actual battle against the Huns.

While here on a furlough last month, he expressed hope of being sent to France soon.

"He was engaged in a hazardous occupation," said the father today, "and we had tried to prepare ourselves for just such a shock. But parents can't do that. We grieve. His mother is heartbroken, but we are proud in the knowledge that our first child given in death answered his country's call."

The news of the young officer's death has cast a pall of grief over the community.

Lieutenant Carson, who at the time of his enlistment, was engaged in electrical work at Eugene, was an inventive genius, and several appliances for airplane safety, invented by him, had been adopted by the flying service.

The above is taken from a Hood River, Oregon, paper. "A Friend" adds the following: "Lt. Carson, who has lived in Hood River for so proud 14 years and whom we are so proud to call 'our boy,' was born and spent his first ten years of life at Hustonville, and he had never forgotten his 'old Kentucky home.'"

"The body of Lieutenant Carson will be brought to Hood River by his friend Captain Neville, and will be buried with military honors at this place August 9th."

John W. Garrett, American Minister at The Hague, has been designated to represent the State Department and to head the mission of the United States which will meet German delegates at Berne, Switzerland, within a month to discuss the treatment and exchange of prisoners of war.

BIG FLUOR SPAR MINE

Byrd & Drake, of New York City, who have recently purchased from the Dean heirs their 200 acre farm, near Cummin's Ferry, on Kentucky river, for $26,000, have now gone to work on active preparations for fluor spar mining and milling. Col. T. T. Denn will be their labor foreman, and he was in Harrodsburg Monday looking for hands. The Nicholasville Construction Company will at once begin the erection of camp buildings to take care of 80 workmen. The company's plan is to place in operation $250,000 worth of machinery, which has already been purchased. Like the Chinn mines the new company will ship their products by river to Madisonville, Ind., where they will be placed aboard cars. The three veins opened on the farm are very rich in pure fluor spar. Mr. C. E. Rankin, of this city, is the attorney. It is Mr. Dean's understanding that this fluor spar will be utilized in making poisonous gases for the government. With the addition of this new mining enterprise, it will place the number of men in the county employed in that line of work at a very considerable number.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Dr. M. J. Skiff has sold his office, in the Abdo Easi block, and his residence on East Water street, to Dr. Ballou, and he and his family expect to move to North East, Pa., where he owns a farm. The deal was consummated last week and a part payment was made to bind the bargain. Dr. Skiff is to store his household goods in the residence of J. H. Kraemer and remain here long enough to get affairs settled and Dr. Ballou and family will move here soon from Toledo. Dr. Ballou was located at Graytown for a number of years where he is very highly esteemed. While we regret indeed the loss of Dr. and Mrs. Skiff and Thelma from our citizenry, our best wishes go with them. We extend the hand of hearty welcome to Dr. Ballou and his family.—Ottown County Exponent, Oak Harbor, O.

Allied troops are entering Russia to help and not a foot of territory is desired, the Russian people are told in a declaration published at Vladivostok, Murmansk and Archangel by British Representatives. It is stated that there is no intention of imposing a political system upon Russia, which must work out its own form of government.

INSIDIOUS HUN PROPAGANDA

Encouraging the feeling that the war will soon be ended, now that the Yanks are in the field in force and taking the offensive, is one of the most insidious and effective forms of present day Hun propaganda. And almost every day you hear it, in most cases unconsciously being put forth. For the average person who advances this idea, and possibly really believes it, is unconsciously playing the Hun game.

He is just as unconsciously a Hun victim; one who is later to be rudely awakened, disappointed and possibly disheartened.

Which is exactly what the Hun propagandists desire.

The end of the war isn't in sight by any means.

Only in one short sector along the Swiss border is the fight on German soil.

Germany still holds nearly all of Belgium, a great broad section of Northern France, thousands of miles of Russia, and her control of the Balkan is absolute.

Before the end can come all this must be wrested from her.

The finish must be fought out on German soil!

Uncle Sam isn't deluded. Neither is England nor France. Nowhere is preparation for greater effort than ever before diminishing.

Uncle Sam is planning right now to raise $16,000,000,000 for the next year's war expense. Planning to increase the army to 5,000,000 men.

Getting ready to carry the fight home to the Hun.

So don't be deceived by this Hun-inspired talk of an early finish. Don't throw up the sponge before he reaches the Rhine.

Whenever you hear talk of this sort, explain what it means.

And meantime strengthen your savings account for the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Seizure of four more enemy-owned corporations with a total capitalization in excess of $2,000,000 was announced by A. Mitchell Palmer, Alien Property Custodian. The companies will be sold at public auction.

Army officers see in the allied victories in the Aisne-Marne sector and in Picardy a gigantic turn of the tide which will force the enemy back to his old lines before the winter sets in. Some declared that one of the decisive moments of the war, perhaps the beginning of the final battle, was rapidly approaching.

Twenty-eight thousand defective raincoats were rejected in New York warehouses where Federal graft probers are re-inspecting the garments, more than half of which have been found defective. A number of employees, one a United States army officer, and seventeen manufacturers face Federal charges as the result of the investigation and complaints of Gen. Pershing that the raincoats sent the men in France were of poor material.

Secretary Baker Friday proposed new draft regulations under which the Government would do the selecting rather than the men. Mr. Baker said men with dependents often hesitated through patriotic motives to ask for deferred classification. It is to obviate this that the proposed regulations are urged. Mr. Baker discussed the situation Friday with the Senate Military Committee.

PORK AND BEANS

The Wall Street Journal makes this comment on products of the farm that contribute to military efficiency:

"Where road work is to be done, like that of a lumber camp, for instance, the most popular food is pork and beans. The Allied nations are engaged in a work that requires hearty, nourishing food in great quantities. As they enter the fifth year of the war there is no more cheering news, than that the supply of pork and beans will not fail them."

"Our ordinary production of beans is about 10,000,000 bushels. But America is in the war now and beans are a military necessity. Production has been almost doubled, and the 1918 forecast is for a crop of nearly 20,000,000 bushels. In addition, there is a considerable acreage of soy beans, which are more nutritious than the navy variety. Here is something to cheer the fighters, from mine to forge and shipyard to those in the field and trenches."

"Pork must form a large proportion of the supply of meat. At no time since the world crime began has the American pork supply been more promising. No definite statistics are yet available, but we have the assurance of the Bureau of Animal Industry that the results of the pig propaganda have been satisfactory. That propaganda last year looked forward to a 15 per cent increase of hogs this year. That would mean 80,000,000 head. Private reports say there is an unusual number of pigs growing this year, which apparently confirms the bureau's statement."

"That number of hogs would require, with other foods, 800,000,000 bushels of corn. All signs now point to a corn crop above 3,000,000,000 bushels. Rains in the past week have helped it. It is growing rapidly, and rains with warm weather, but not intense heat while it is tasseling, are the forerunners of good earing. The crop is early, which assures that it will be ripe before ordinary frost dates. Out of the prospective crop the pork-making requirements can be easily met, and all other demands supplied."

"Allied populations will be supplied with necessary meat and fats, and the soldiers fed on nourishing food. With other food and feed crops promising good returns, there will be sufficient of everything to supplement the generous supply of pork and beans, which, in military terms, must mean victory."

THE GOOD SHIP

"LIBERTY LOAN"

German's submarines have taken tremendous toll of the Allied ocean shipping during the last two years. merchantman, armored cruiser or fishing smack, they have all looked alike to the Huns. Red Cross ships have been sent to the bottom; women and children have been shelled in lifeboats. With them nothing has been respected. All that came their way has been fair game; it has been open season ever on the high seas for every variety of craft.

But no German U-boat will be able to stay the progress of the good ship "Liberty Loan," lifeboat of the world's civilization.

Very shortly the "Liberty Loan" is to put forth once more. It will be a short voyage but a tremendously important one to the liberties of the world. It must be a triumphant one.

It must end with the bands playing and the colors flying proudly from the masthead. No Spanish galleon of the alien days ever carried such a wealth of treasure as the good ship "Liberty Loan" must bring safely into port.

And all of us, for our honor, our country and our self-respect through the years to come, must take part in this greatest excursion the world has ever witnessed.

Get ready, folks, to get aboard. Get your badge of loyalty early. You can not afford to be left.

SAYS CHEMIST IS PUBLIC BENEFACTOR

"Being a doctor, and suffering for many years with stomach trouble, I feel I can not do justice to so great a public benefactor in writing. Myr's Wonderful Remedy is everything you have claimed for it. I can now eat and relish victuals I have not dared to eat in many years. Am feeling like newly born." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. The Lincoln Pharmacy; The Penny Drug Store.

Tom Davis, William Spilman and P. S. Neale bought this week 385 acres of land in Nelson county from Charles White. The tract is in three miles of Hardtown, on the Springfield pike, and a very beautiful piece of farm land. The price paid for it was $120 an acre. This makes Mr. Neale interested in 1,250 acres of land in Nelson county, which has cost him from $100 to $140 an acre. He tells the Herald that the same land in Mercer county would bring from $150 to $250 an acre.—Harrisburg Herald.
